

A new method of constructing metrics on surfaces which maximize the first eigenvalue

Richard Schoen, Stanford University

Abstract:

The problem of finding sharp upper bounds on the first eigenvalue for Riemannian surfaces has a long history. We will describe a new method for constructing smooth maximizing metrics both for compact surfaces and for surfaces with boundary.